Politics As She Is Played

Since time immemorial it has been the habit of defeated Governors in the state of California to name for their successors appointees in various state departments.

It has also been the aim of office holders to get their appointments as far as possible into the succeeding regime.

In the case of the death of a judge, a supervisor or an office holder it is, of course, proper for the governor to fill the vacancy, but the plan that has obtained in this state for many years for a defeated Governor to make appointments just as far ahead as the law allows, is one of the peculiarities of the political game and it was done in any other kind of a game it would be called unsportsmanlike.

When Von Elm and Bobby Jones were in the midst of their golf contest Von Elm's disposition was disturbed to such an extent at one point that he lost a point. Jones knew why Von Elm lost that point and showed his real sportsmanship by missing a putt, thus returning the point to Von Elm.

A little later in that same contest the crowd surged so close to Jones that he missed an approach shot. Von Elm noting it saw to it that the point was returned to Jones.

In various games played by real men we have consideration shown by opposing sides. A map knocked out in a football game is often assisted back to playing condition again by men of the opposing team.

A man struck by a baseball is given first aid by members of the opposition but in political circles in this state when the voters have decided who they want for Governor immediately does the defeated Governor proceed to make appointments as far into the next Governor's tenure of office as possible.

This condition has existed over a period of years. When the voters decided they wanted Richardson to serve as Governor, immediately Governor Stephens, whom the voters had insisted should step down and out, appointed office holders as far into the future as it was possible, thus handicapping Governor Richardson in getting his plan of state business into operation.

The time has come when the voters have decided that C. C. Young will be Governor and so we find Governor Richardson adopting the same policy that has been followed by other Governors. If politics was a game in which real sportsmanship entered, when the voters decide on a change in Governors, appointments, except where imperative, would cease to be made. Office holders not in sympathy with the coming Governor would present their resignations to him that he might do as he saw fit with them.

But that is not the way we play politics in this state—it's more of a case of dog eat dog.

VIA CANYON ROAD TO COAST ROUTE

Northern Motorist Placed Under Arrest For Intoxication—Unable To Supply Bail, Is In County Jail

Joe House of Newman, near Modesto, was enroute up San Antonio Canyon Sunday, looking for the coast road leading north.

Telephone call from rangers to Chief of Police Sawyer resulted in the arrest of House who seemed unsteady on his feet.

In Judge Crane's court House was charged with driving while intoxicated and his bail fixed at $300. Not having the $300 House was placed in the county jail at San Bernardino.

House was accompanied by his wife on the motor trip.

CROMBIE ALLEN INVITES WORLD PRESS TO COME TO SOUTHLAND

INVITATION IS PRESENTED IN PERSON AT GENEVA

Representatives of 30 Countries Applaud Invitation To Hold Session In Los Angeles In 1932

Southern California may have an international convention of both brains and brawn with Crombie Allen, publisher of the Ontario Report and former president of the Southern California Editorial association, presenting an invitation to the Press Congress of the World, now in session at Geneva, Switzerland, to meet in Los Angeles in 1932. The convention of brawn will be represented by the Olympiad.

The invitation presented by Allen was the only one of hundreds of invitations presented to be given in person before the members of the congress. When the representatives of 24 to 30 countries, members of the congress had heard the invitation from Los Angeles to be its guests in 1932 they showed their approval by applauding.

Referred to Committee

Although the invitation was received with acclaim by the members of the international group, it was referred to the executive committee for final action. It is likely that South America, probably Buenos Aires, will get a session in 1929, but the sentiment seems to be solid for Southern California in 1932.

The invitation was read by the San Bernardino county newspaperman on the shores of Lake Lemmon, or Lake Geneva, to a notable gathering of newspaper publishers, representing thousands of newspapers, millions of readers and nearly every nation on earth.

Allen Talks To Congress

Dr. Walter Williams, who presided, is dean of the school of Journalism of the University of Missouri, founder of the Press congress at the World's fair in San Francisco in 1915, and loved leader of the organization, whose object shall be to advance by conference, discussion and united effort the cause of journalism in every honorable way. Dean Williams declared that a number of invitations had been received, which would be referred to the executive committee, but that a citizen of the United States had come halfway around the world to deliver an invitation in person and he felt he knew the convention would be glad to hear him in person.

Perhaps it was because the convention was a trifle weary after listening for a week to splendid, but perhaps too solemn discussions, but at all events, Mr. Allen had not proceeded very far with his presentation of the cordial invitation until he had captured the congress, and before he concluded had clinched the convention for 1932, first with good-humored references to the world-renowned attractions of Los Angeles and finally with the substantial support of the official and widespread character of the invitation.

Receives Huge Support

Mr. Allen told how it had occurred to him less than a week before he left that it would be a happy circumstance to have an international gathering of newspaper publishers in Los Angeles in 1932, as well as an international gathering of athletes. He related how he had first broached the matter to Harry Chandler of the Times, and the immediate and splendid support he had received from him.

The speaker said Arthur S. Bent, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, had set the wheels of that great organization in motion to obtain the support of the leading organizations of the city.

Backed By Organization

Mr. Allen read the letters of the

C. B. SHERWOOD PASSES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

WELL-KNOWN AS AUTO-MOBILE DEALER HERE

Funeral Services Conducted Today From Draper's Chapel, With Rev. John B. Toomey Officiating

Charles Blakeslee Sherwood, well-known citrus rancher, died Sunday at his home, 938 West Sixth Street, at the age of 58 years. Mr. Sherwood, who was engaged in the automobile business here for a number of years, has been a resident of Ontario since 1912.

He leaves, beside his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth D. Sherwood; a son, Ray R. Sherwood, of San Bernardino; a sister, Mrs. Florence Webster of Spring Green, Wis.; two brothers, E. S. and D. B. Sherwood, of the same place, and three grandchildren, Beth, Kathleen and Robert Sherwood, of San Bernardino.

Funeral services were conducted from Draper's Ontario Chapel this afternoon, with the Rev. John B. Toomey of the Bethel Congregational Church, officiating. Interment was in Bellevue Cemetery.

MUSICAL PROGRAM GIVEN AT SERVICE CLUB LAST NIGHT

The regular meeting of the Young Men's Service Club was held at the Davis Cafe last night. President Wm. Allen presiding.

Floyd Chambers and Isaiah Steiner gave a very interesting account of their visit to the Bankers' Convention in Los Angeles last Tuesday.

Ernest Stone, the club song leader, was chairman of the entertainment and presented a very good musical program. Miss Dorothy Rollin, Miss Mary Lehigh and Mr. William Seguin, of the Chaffey Music Department, were the entertainers.

Miss Rollin, accomplished violinist, pleased members very much with her excellent playing. Among her selections were: "Land of the Sky Blue Waters," "Song of India," and "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling."

Mr. Seguin's voice was an inspiration to members and was thoroughly appreciated. "That Tumble Down Shack in Athlone," "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," and "The End of the Road" were some of his selections.

Miss Lehigh was the pianist who very ably accompanied each number. The club expected a solo from Miss Lehigh but an appointment elsewhere called the entertainers away before it could be given.

Walter Hastings was absent, being in the North on his vacation.

PUBLIC INVITED TO SCOUTING LECTURE

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend the lecture at the Ontario Junior High school on Tuesday afternoon, when Dr. Brooks, who is head of the religious department at Pomona college will speak on the "Service of Scouting." On Thursday afternoon, Miss Ayers of the psychology department of Pomona college will speak on "Adolescent Psychology" at the Chaffey Apartment, and both of these fine lectures are open to the public.

These talks are being given as part of the scouting course Chaffey High school, under the supervision of Miss Lillian Lind, secretary of the Girls Work, Miss Verna Danks, girl scout commissioner, and Miss Louise Harris, girl scout field captain.

Twenty million tons of iron go to waste annually because of rust, it is estimated.

ATTORNEY BURT IS CLUB SPEAKER

History of San Antonio Park From Its Earliest Inception Given Before Business and Professional Women's Club

A. W. Burt, Upland attorney and member of the local Lions Club, was the speaker yesterday at the regular monthly meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club at the Davis Cafe.

Mr. Burt told in an interesting manner the early history of San Antonio Park, which was started through his efforts in 1903, when he came here as manager of the street car system. In 1909 the Pacific Electric Company subdivided a large acreage of land known as the San Antonio Park Tract, which included the acreage of the present park. This was used by the public for so many years that it became public property and recently, through the efforts of the Business Women, the Lions Club and other service clubs, it was secured for the city and is being converted into a playground and recreation center for the community.

At the next meeting of the local Lions, the club will adjourn to the park and, donning overalls and gloves, work with hoe and shovel cleaning and weeding the grounds. Mr. Burt said that shrubs and plants will be accepted very gratefully and anybody having those to give should communicate with him.

A witty Irish story concluded Mr. Burt's talk, which was appreciated by his audience.

Mrs. Mark Bailey presided at the meeting and called for the report of the monthly District Federation Meeting held at Corona Saturday, which was ably given by Miss Grace Adair.

Mrs. R. B. Campbell, chairman of the Social Committee, announced that a Halloween party would be given shortly and that her committee were planning on a moving picture show to be early in November at the Colonial Theatre, the proceeds to be used for the upkeep of the Community Cottage.

Mrs. Miles Harnly urged the club women to vote against the repeal of the Wright Act at the coming election. This will be Proposition 9 on the ballot. Mrs. Harnly explains that if this act were repealed, local, city and county officers could not cooperate with federal agents in arresting bootleggers and rum runners.

Mrs. Bailey announced that two new members had been admitted into the club, Mrs. J. H. Freeman of Vernon Drive and Mrs. Thomas Sawyer of San Antonio Canyon.

NEW ELKS BUILDING GETS STUCCO FINISH

Workmen today started the task of covering the Ferguson building, A Street and Euclid Avenue, purchased by Ontario Elks lodge, with a stucco finish.

Interior of the Elks lodge room is rapidly nearing completion and with the exterior bearing a new covering, the structure will be another attractive addition to East A St.

Officers of the Elks order hope to have the interior finished this week in order that the new home may be fittingly dedicated next week.

MANUAL SPRINKLING SYSTEM FOR COUNTY COURTHOUSE FAVORED

A manual-block operated lawn sprinkling system will be installed on the new courthouse grounds, it was decided at a meeting of the board of supervisors yesterday.

Bids were asked on both the manual and automatic systems, the automatic costs nearly doubling that of the manual type. County Surveyor Howard L. Way inspected the two systems in operation, and it was his recommendation that the board accept the manual system. A contract will be awarded next Monday.

BUSINESS MEN TO ENJOY EVENING AT DAVIS CAFE

"WHO'S YOUR SCHOOL MASTER?" TO BE GIVEN

Secretaries of Various Business Men's Associations To Give Short Talks On Work of Associations

Thursday evening at 6:30, business men of the city are to gather at the banquet room of the Davis Cafe in the first get together of the winter season.

Touching elbows about a banquet table tends to not only make better business men but adds to the good fellowship and co-operation among the various business enterprises of the city.

"Who's Your School Master," a short skit is to be presented by men from Ontario, while short talks by secretaries of neighboring business associations will be given.

J. L. Grahame will preside at the piano and lead the community singing. Business men and their wives and employees will attend.

E. P. RADER DEAD AT EIGHTY-ONE YEARS

E. P. Rader died at the home of Mrs. Amy Frost, 566 East Tenth Street, at eleven o'clock this morning.

Mr. Rader, who is a member of the G. A. R., was 81 years of age at the time of his demise, and he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Charles Donnelly of Etiwanda, Mrs. Harvey Brubaker of Oakland, and two sons, Porter Rader of New York and Ralph Rader of Silverlake, Kans.

Funeral services, which are in charge of J. B. Draper, have not been completed.

ANDERSON NAMED COY'S ASSISTANT

Fred Anderson Selected By Horticultural Inspector Coy As His Assistant In West End of County

J. F. Anderson of Upland, for many years in the service of the county as horticultural inspector, was yesterday named supervisor inspector of the county horticultural commission to serve the west end of San Bernardino County.

Mr. Anderson was recommended to the Board of Supervisors by Horticultural Commissioner Coy, with whom Mr. Anderson has worked for many years. The appointment was presented to the Board by Supervisor C. E. Grier of Upland.

Mr. Coy stated there was a need for such an inspector in the district, which is rich in citrus and deciduous fruit agriculture.

The salary of the office was fixed at $175 monthly and the appointment is effective immediately.

POMONA COLLEGE FOUNDERS' DAY AT CHAFFEY HIGH

FIFTY POMONA COLLEGE ALUMNI TO GATHER HERE

Dean Norton To Act As Toastmaster—Phebe Estelle Spalding and Dr. Robert D. Williams, Speakers

More than fifty Pomona College alumni living in Pomona Valley will attend the Campus Club observance of Pomona College Founders' Day to be held at Chaffey Union High School at 6:30 on the evening of October 14.

Complete plans for the Campus Club observance have been announced by the committee in charge. The banquet will be held in the dining room of the high school with Julian Brannan, president of the Campus Club, presiding.

He will introduce Dean Norton as the toastmaster, who will in turn introduce the speakers, Phebe Estelle Spalding and Dr. Robert D. Williams.

The unique Flame Ceremony, which has always been a part of Pomona College Founders' Day programs will be read by Dr. Benjamin D. Scott, associate professor of public address, with incidental music by Miss Marjorie Carver, cellist, accompanied by Prof. Walter Allen at the piano. Dr. C. B. Sumner will probably carry the Founders' candle and will light the candles of Dr. George Sumner, representing the oldest graduating class, and Miss Margaret Maple, representing the youngest class. Music will be given during the evening by selected members from the men's Glee Club.

Ernest W. Fischer of Ontario is in charge of arrangements at Chaffey Union High School.

MERIWEATHER IS NAMED PRESIDENT BY NURSERYMEN

W. B. CLARKE OF SAN JOSE ELECTED VICE-PRESIDENT

Sixteenth Annual Convention Of State Nurserymen Closes At Armstrong Hall After Successful Program

At the election of officers and directors for the ensuing year, which was held late Friday afternoon in Armstrong Hall at the close of the two-day session of the sixteenth annual convention of the California Association of Nurserymen, J. D. Meriweather of the Armstrong Nurseries here was honored by being re-elected to the presidential chair for another term.

W. B. Clarke of San Jose was again chosen to serve as first vice-president and the following nurserymen were chosen to act as directors of the organization until next year's convention: Fred H. Howard of Los Angeles; H. Plath of San Francisco; J. E. Bergholtz of Newcastle; Geo. C. Roeding of Miles; Roy F. Wilcox of Montebello.

The sixteenth annual convention of the association was declared by visiting nurserymen to be the finest ever held and they were loud in their praise of the Armstrong organization for the hospitality extended them. John S. Armstrong, founder of the local concern, was especially lauded for his untiring efforts in behalf of the association, and the delegation's appreciation of J. D. Meriweather was aptly revealed in his re-election to the presidency.

FOUR GENERATION VANDUSEN FAMILY

DeVon Lee Van Dusen Arrives To Gladden Hearts of Family—Grandfather VanDusen Is Happy, Too

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn VanDusen are receiving the congratulations of their many friends on the birth of their son, which event took place at the San Antonio Community Hospital on Saturday afternoon, October 9th.

The new arrival, who weighed seven and one-half pounds at birth, has been named DeVon Lee and Father Glenn, who is employed at The News, is passing around the cigars.

With the advent of wee DeVon, four generations are now represented in the Vandusen family: W. E. VanDusen of Pomona the great grandfather, who is 78 years old; H. C. VanDusen of Upland, the grandfather, Glenn VanDusen the father, and the new baby.

COUNTY IS NOT READY TO BAR STUNT FLYING

San Bernardino County is not yet ready to legislate against aviators.

The board of supervisors tabled without comment a request from City Clerk Robert Dominguez of San Bernardino that the county enact an ordinance prohibiting stunt and fancy flying at low and dangerous altitudes.

In his communication to the supervisors, Mr. Dominguez stated that an ordinance has been adopted by the Los Angeles city council and requested that similar laws be enacted in Southern California counties.

A policeman in Richmond, Virginia, whose automobile collided with another car, promptly arrested himself for reckless driving.

PRISONER SLIPS OUT REAR DOOR

Fifty Days In Jail Didn't Appeal To Wandering One, So He Left Without Announcing His Departure

Fifty days in the county jail for vagrancy did not appeal to Herman Quinters of Los Angeles and while officers were in the front part of Police Headquarters yesterday Quinters left.

Chief of Police Sawyer heard the back door slam and immediately surmised that the city's guest had left without saying goodbye.

Chief Sawyer and Officer Kronmeyer were soon on his trail but as yet no trace of the man has been found. Employees of the Upland Citrus saw a man running through the yard of the packing plant but his hurry did not arouse their curiosity at the time.

No Public Demand For State Water and Power Act Revival

(Los Angeles Examiner)

The $500,000,000 Water and Power Act, defeated in 1922 and 1924, is again before the voters of California. It is an initiative measure, No. 18 on the ballot.

While there is no doubt that provision should be made for the maximum economic development of water and power resources of the state, the citizens have twice stated, in emphatic terms, that they do not favor the method provided in the suggested Water and Power Act.

Its revival after this brief lapse of time since its last overwhelming defeat is, in the opinion of The Examiner, not justified. With a majority against of 354,000 in 1922 and of 431,000 in 1924, there is a record of increasingly hostile sentiment toward the measure which is conclusive evidence that the people do not accept it as a solution of their great natural problems.

The very merits of the plan, which were set forth fully by this newspaper in previous campaigns, will cease to have any appeal even to former friends if the proposition is persistently put up to be knocked over by the voters.

Since the last decision on the issue nothing has been done of any consequence to change public sentiment. No new or additional foundation has been laid for a different result than that already furnished. There are no fresh facts or arguments to capture the imagination and votes of the electorate.

On the contrary, present conditions appear to be less favorable for an affirmative vote than they were in 1924. That year, it will be recalled, immediately followed the greatest drought the state had known in fifty years. Since then there have been seasons of practically normal rainfall.

The situation in Southern California is much better than formerly. There is substantial assurance that the Swing-Johnson Bill will pass at the next session of Congress. The Boulder Dam project will give this region both water and power. Los Angeles, which provides more than a fourth of the state's vote, will soon be called upon to finance an expensive aqueduct. The citizens here will therefore not take kindly to the proposed $500,000,000 state bond issue.

There is no present public demand for the water and power program described in No. 18. Its submission is untimely.

Man's Courage In Face of Disaster

(Pasadena Star-News)

The divinity in man is manifested best, perhaps, in the time of extreme disaster and distress. If man had not a God-given nature and courage born in the skies, he would give up in discouragement. When the hurricane comes, with its desolation, man has the temptation to flee in terror and never to rebuild the razed structures. But he puts the timorous temptation behind him. He bestirs himself. He shakes off his fears, as an incubus which he scorns. He sets forth, with elastic step and stout heart, and cheery mien, to begin the work of rehabilitation.

The earthquake may do its worst. But San Francisco, and Santa Barbara, and Tokyo come forth from their ruins more resplendently than ever. Floods may devastate. But Johnstown, and Dayton, and Pueblo, and dozens of other cities, step forth in newness of life. Fire may rage in Chicago, in Boston, in Baltimore, in San Francisco. But the high courage of man surmounts these terrifying visitations and defies the elements to daunt or dismay him.

There are sparks of the divine flame of courage in the hearts of men. There is the never-give-up impulse that brings from men miracles in rehabilitation in the wake of disaster.

Modern Magic

Talk about your fairy tales, magic spells and such,

There's Aladdin people quote; say, HE wasn't much!

Sure, he had a wishing ring; yes, he had a lamp;

Still, compared with me today, "Lad" was just a tramp.

Rave about your flying horse, wondrous winged steed;

Magic carpets sailing high—huh! you call that speed?

Envy them? Why, not at all—I am luckier far;

Keep your old-time magic junk . . . Me? I've got a car!

Tourist vs. Dire Need

(Santa Ana Register)

The head of the American Red Cross has issued a statement declaring that boosters in Florida have sent out declarations by which they have attempted to make it appear that the need for aid in Florida has been exaggerated. These boosters, anxious only to recuperate from their real estate losses, want the tourists to keep on coming to Florida. This is a perfectly laudable ambition, as California surely cannot deny. But these statements have naturally discouraged whole-hearted giving to the Red Cross.

The Red Cross work, naturally, is not among the owners of large properties, not among subdivisionists, not among hotel owners. The Red Cross is supplying food and raiment and relief for the sick among those who have been left utterly destitute. Representatives of the Red Cross, expert in sizing up catastrophes, have been on the ground in every devastated city. Their reports have shown a great need. The Red Cross sent out a call for 5,000,000 to meet that need. Not waiting for the money to be raised, having faith that the American people would provide it the Red Cross has gone ahead with its relief work.

Then came the stumbling block. As is sometimes the case, local agencies began to fear that great harm would be done future tourist trade. It was decided, in one city at least, that the mayor should send out a report saying that newspapers had greatly exaggerated the conditions. Anyone in Santa Ana who last week in local theaters saw moving pictures showing portions of the devastated areas were impressed with the idea that, instead of being exaggerated, news reports had failed to tell the story.

We suspect that the stricken cities of Florida will be made to suffer just as Santa Barbara suffered, following the earthquake 15 months ago. Fearing that Easterners might get a "bad impression" of California if collections were taken up in the East, some California boosters hastily issued a statement that the damage had been "exaggerated" and that California would raise whatever money was necessary to help Santa Barbara. It was a foolish move. Not only did the East fail to help Santa Barbara, but thousands upon thousands of Californians failed to give their share because they, too, believed those whose mistaken idea had caused them to say the damage really was not as bad as reported. The result was that Santa Barbara never did get the aid that ought to have been given.

If it were possible to muzzle seekers after tourist trade for at least six months after a disaster, the orderly process of succoring the needy and caring for the sick and injured would be greatly benefitted.

If the directors of Mal Daugherty's bank are at all appreciative, they might consider a resolution of thanks to the inventor of the loose-leaf ledger.

He Was Here First

(San Bernardino Telegram)

It is the inalienable right of an American citizen to cross the street. When in the course of human progress this right falls into jeopardy, it is the stern task of the community to assert, restore and protect that fundamental privilege.

It is one of the inevitable results of vehicular traffic growth that street regulation primarily is directed to facilitating vehicle movement, and only casually to the facilitating of pedestrian movement. The most that has occurred to the regulators is to teach the pedestrian, if possible, to stay put on his sidewalk and scurry across the highway in such fleeting moment as no car is making a right or left turn, as the case may be.

In other words, the pedestrian movement is merely a by-product, in traffic regulation, of vehicle movement, and he has no primary basis of movement of his own to which the vehicle is expected and if necessary compelled to conform. One of the reasons, of course, is the amount and importance of vehicle traffic, and another reason is that the pedestrian, being a relatively slow-moving and soft-bodied unit, inter-human collisions are, as a rule, without peril.

The right of the pedestrian to cross the street with safety and dignity should be provided for on its own fundamental virtue and not merely as something to be fitted in, as may be found possible, to a kingly provision intended solely to let the vehicle make better time.

Today is what we were all looking forward to yesterday.

Problems of Milk Producers

(Pomona Bulletin)

Without expressing an opinion as to whether government help or local co-operative action be the better medium of solution of the ills of the agriculturists of the country, we may say, in deep earnest, that the pronouncements of those advocating the latter course ring true to the American spirit. Leaning upon government for aid to a decrepit industry is too much like the tactics of the member of the team which refuses to pull. An industry not so managed as to pay its own way needs fixing.

These sentiments are stated anent current comment upon problems of California's milk producers. There are 10,500 such local associations in the country, doing an annual business of $2,500,000,000. California occupies a foremost position, alike in the number and variety of its co-operative unions. The California Fruit Exchange is taken as a model for organizations of this kind throughout the country. California's organized dairy herd probably includes 350,000 cows, plus as many more without the compact. By its means milk price to the producer and purity to the consumer have been promoted.

Tested Recipes

Jellied Cucumber Salad

1½ tablespoons gelatin; ¼ cup cold water; 1 medium cucumber; crushed pineapple; 2 tablespoons sugar; few grains salt; ¼ cup lemon juice or vinegar; ¼ sweet red or green pepper; lettuce; salad dressing.

Soak gelatin in cold water and dissolve over hot water. Pare cucumber, chop fine, add enough crushed pineapple or grapefruit pulp and juice or peeled and crushed tomato to make 1½ cups, add gelatin, sugar, salt, lemon juice and red or green pepper cut in very fine shreds. Turn into 4 molds, chill, remove from molds and serve on lettuce with salad dressing.

Cake Crumb Macaroons

1 egg white ½ cup powdered sugar; ½ teaspoon almond flavoring; ¼ cup fine cake crumbs.

Beat egg white until very stiff, measure powdered sugar, beat in 2 tablespoons and fold in the remainder, then fold in flavoring and cake crumbs. Shape in ovals on greased tin sheet and bake in a slow oven or at 300 degrees F. for 20 minutes.

Delicious frozen desserts and ice creams can be made with odds and ends of leftover fruit, boiled custard, charlotte russe, chocolate sauce, a dab of frosting or pie filling. Add rich milk or thin cream, or fruit juice to make up the desired amount, add sugar to sweeten and use a flavor that blends nicely with the predominating flavor of the left-over material. Then freeze it and you will be surprised at the delicate texture and flavor.

Frozen Fruit

1 melon; 2 peaches; ½ cup orange juice; 2 tablespoons lemon juice; sugar; 1 tablespoon mint leaves.

Remove pulp from melon, cut in pieces, add peaches, fresh or canned, cut in small pieces, fruit juice, sugar to taste, and mint leaves finely chopped. Freeze to a mush and serve in glasses with whipped cream.

Half an orange, one or two portions of peach or other canned fruit may be combined to make a very inviting first course, served in a cocktail glass or on lettuce with salad dressing. Canned fruit juice may be combined with liquid peetin for a glass of jolly or made into pudding sauce.

Fruit Fritters

¾ cup flour; ½ tablespoon sugar; ¼ teaspoon salt; ½ cup water; 1 egg white; 1 cup fruit, fresh or canned.

Mix flour, sugar and salt, add water gradually, then add egg white beaten stiff. Add fruit, one or several kinds, cut in pieces. Drop by spoonfuls into deep hot fat registering 370 degrees F., cook until brown on both sides, drain on brown paper, and sprinkle with sugar. Serve with Fruit Sauce.

Cooked vegetables, meat or fish may be used in place of fruit and served with a thin white or brown sauce as a main course.

Fruit Sauce

½ cup sugar; ½ tablespoon flour; ½ cup sirup from canned fruit; 1 egg yolk; ¼ tablespoon lemon; red color paste.

Mix sugar and flour in saucepan and add fruit sirup. Simmer 10 minutes, add egg yolk mixed with lemon juice, stir and cook 1 minute, and add color paste if necessary to give a good color.

Ambassador Soup

3 cups stock; ½ cup cooked rice or other cereal; ½ cup peas or other vegetable; ¼ cup lettuce; 1 tablespoon butter; salt and pepper; ¼ cup cream.

Heat stock made from chicken or other bones and seasoning, add the rice, and the peas rubbed through a sieve, and simmer 10 minutes. Add lettuce finely shredded, closely packed down in measuring cup and cooked in butter without discoloring. Season to taste and add cream beaten stiff, or 1 cup milk, and serve as soon as thoroughly hot.

Fish Boudan

2 cups cooked fish; ¼ teaspoon pepper; ½ teaspoon salt; 2 tablespoons melted butter; 1½ tablespoons lemon juice; 2 eggs; ½ cup milk; stuffed olives.

Flake fish, add remaining ingredients, mix well, put in greased bowl and steam or bake until firm. Turn out and serve surrounded with white sauce made with fish stock if convenient. Garnish with stuffed olives cut in thin slices and placed on top.

Beauty Of Alaska And Far North Is Enjoyed By Miss Mabon During Vacation

Faculty Member Is Greatly Impressed By the Grandeur Of Northern Scenery—Country Is Rich In Natural Resources

To sail along the northern coast among heavily wooded islands, in range of high mountains with their occasional waterfalls; to gaze upon the giant glaciers and myriads of floating icebergs—glorious spectacles of the far north; these were the pleasures afforded Miss Mabon, head of the department of physical education for girls, on her Alaskan cruise during the summer. Miss Mabon has witnessed other natural beauties, but none can compare with the grandeur of northern scenery. "It was so marvelous that I regretted to leave it all," states Miss Mabon. "Indeed, it was the most wonderful trip I have ever taken."

The Alaska of today is not the desolate land pictured to us in story books and movies, sparsely settled by miners and traders, and peopled by an uneducated race. It is a country which is rapidly becoming modernized in every respect. The larger cities have every convenience ranging from railroads to beauty parlors. The natural resources are being developed, and trade and industry are thriving. The inhabitants are intelligent and refined, and education is becoming almost universal, there being numerous government and sectarian schools in the larger cities and towns.

Canneries principally concerned with the packing of shrimp and salmon, dot the coastline. It was Miss Mabon's privilege to be conducted through one of these packing houses. "I still enjoy eating fish, too," says Miss Mabon. "This indeed speaks well of the sanitary conditions under which the plants are conducted."

The country around Fairbanks is extremely rich, and produces a superior grade of wheat and vegetables. It is only natural that an agricultural college should be founded in this suitable local to inform the generation which will constitute the farmers of tomorrow in the necessary essentials of successful farming. The school, which is only three years old, consists of several buildings and a museum.

Alaska has a great future before it. Being a comparatively young country, its unlimited resources have been only partially developed. With the education of the people, there will follow a greater advancement along industrial, commercial and economic lines.

Australian Contest Is Next On Calendar

In order to bring the students of Chaffey into a closer understanding with the continent of Australia, the Australian Friendship Contest is held at Chaffey. Usually the contest is held on October twenty-fifth, but it is not certain when it shall be held this year.

The first of these contests was held in May, 1925, and the second in October of the same year. It was first won by Malcolm Gaul and in October by John King.

Mr. Benjamin Chaffey, who with his brother, George Chaffey, started the Ontario colony and developed it, donated five hundred dollars to be put out at five percent interest to provide the prizes given to the winners.

Girls' League Party Is A Huge Success

The Annual Girls' League Little Sister Party was held last Thursday, September 30, in the Auditorium. The program, in charge of Florence Ashley, included a vocal solo, "Roses of Picardy," sung by Opal Pusha; a piano solo by Gertrude Bond, and various numbers by a girl's quartette composed of Aline Harper, Emily Webster, Melba Paxon, and Mildred Smith, as soloists. The quartette sang: "Take This Rose," "Lonesome and Sorry," "Mary Lou," and "The Prisoner's Song." The advanced girls' glee club also sang two selections. Caroline Munsen of the Junior College played a number on her accordion.

A pantomime of Hansel and Gretel was presented by the following girls: Hansel, Ida Vernon; Gretel, Edna May Dacus; the Witch, Janet Martin; the Dew Man, Francis Garbutt; the Sandman, Elizabeth Bond; The Fairy, Betty Jane Gilmore; the Cookies, Jean Bread, Kathleen Price, Martha Frank, Opal Pusha; and Louise Beattie, vocalist.

After the program, the big sisters took their little sisters to the cafeteria where delicious refreshments were served. Every girl present voted that she had had a wonderful time.

Huge Black Spider Bites Mr. Bentley

C. R. Bentley, a well-liked caretaker at Chaffey, who has charge of the auto parking, was seriously injured last Sunday when he was bitten by a spider while working in the yard of his home. The spider was of an uncommon pernicious variety, black above and red below, and about the size of a thumb. The insect's poison was very nearly fatal to Mr. Bentley, who is convalescing at his home. He will probably not be fully recovered for some days.

Boy's Chorus which is coming to Chaffey were discussed in general. A motion was made, seconded and carried to the effect that posters be printed and placed in noticeable places about the campus and in the stores in Ontario and Upland. The seats for the program will all be reserved, and the advance ticket sale will begin the latter part of this week. A special rate of 35 cents will be made to students buying their tickets before the night of the performance. The tickets will be 50 cents to the town people.

At this meeting the program will be for the little sister party was definitely arranged, and the cast for the skit, "Hansel and Gretel," was selected.

WINNER OF GASOLINE NAME CONTEST

Homer M. Parsons Supplies Winning Name For New Gasoline

A last minute thought won the $1,000.00 offered by the General Petroleum Corporation for a name for its new mystery gasoline. Homer Parsons, 543 Highland avenue, San Bernardino newspaperman carried off the prize with the name Moto-Crat. The new gasoline is now being presented to the public under that name.

Parsons carried several contest blanks, received from General independent dealers, several days in his pockets, and it was not until the closing day, that he sent his name in. But let Parsons tell the story.

"It is certainly great to wake up in the morning and find that a life long dream about finding money has come true. When I sent in my name suggestion, I forgot about it as soon as I put it in the mail box. I had been carrying some General independent dealer contest blanks in my pockets for several days. On August 31, the closing date of the name contest, a friend mentioned the fact that he had sent in his name suggestions and advised me to do the same. The name Moto-Crat flashed through my mind and I put it on a card and sent it in. I thought the name suggested a product of high grade and one that fitted well with motors. Imagine my surprise when I was notified that my name had been selected out of more than 650,000. I am buying a home and this money will go a long way toward paying for it."

Parsons is 30 years old and is married and has two children. His wife is also engaged in newspaper work and is a department editor on the Sun. Parsons has lived in

JUSTUS WARDELL

Justus Wardell, candidate for Governor of California, was born in San Francisco in 1872. He learned the newspaper business from printer's devil to editor and proprietor. Next, he became the proprietor and editor of the Daily Journal of Commerce, which he published in San Francisco for twenty-two years.

In recognition of his ability, Woodrow Wilson appointed him Surveyor of Customs in the year 1913 and four years later promoted Mr. Wardell to the office of Collector of Internal Revenue. His clean record speaks volumes for his integrity in the most trying office under our Government.

Mr. Wardell was married to Clara Louise Kellogg of Brooklyn, New York, in 1895, and they have two children, Ben and Virginia.

His wide experience in public affairs thoroughly qualifies him to give the people a progressive, economical business administration with promise of giving no heed to petty politics and to decide public problems on their merits.

MR. BLAKESLEE SPEAKS TO ASSEMBLY ON TRIP ABROAD

APPRECIATION SHOWN BY APPLAUSE

The Tour Included Lengthy Visits In Cities of Italy, France, Belgium and Germany — Likes America Best

In the Monday assembly, October 4, Mr. Blakeslee gave a very educating and interesting talk on his trip abroad, in order to give the students an insight on a few of the conditions in Europe.

Mr. Blakeslee arranged his speech in the order of events as they occurred, first telling about the enjoyable ocean voyage. In passing through the Straits of Gibraltar at the dead of night, he stated that he was greatly impressed with the thought of the out-reaching, powerful arms of England.

The next morning the liner stopped at the Island of Sicily. Native rowboats took the passengers ashore to Palermo, where they saw ancient churches with walls, ceilings and floors made of mosaics. The next day they arrived at Naples. Here the active volcano, Vesuvius, was the most interesting sight. The ancient city of Pompei which was completely covered by ashes in 79 A. D., is located at its base. The Forum and Temple of Justice there are good examples of the ancient Roman architecture.

"Inexpressable significance" is the way in which Mr. Blakeslee described Rome. The Romans were great builders. Among their famous buildings was the Bath House which accommodated 3200 people at one time. All of the stadiums were built of brick and covered with marble.

In Paris no traces, whatsoever, were found of the Great War. An interesting sight in an excursion to the battle fields was the famous Rheims Cathedral which was bombed for almost four years.

"The opportunities offered us in America are great, and the least we can do is to take advantage of them," was the concluding statement of Mr. Blakeslee.

INS AND OUTS OF THE LIFE OF BOB MEEK

Captain Robert Meek, star center of Chaffey's heavy-weight football team was born in Cranhill, Ontario, Canada, in the year 1909. In 1914 his parents moved to Pomona, where they lived for one year. The next year they moved to Upland where "Bob" entered Upland Grammar School, from which he graduated in 1923.

When the call for football men came in the fall of '23, "Bob" signed up and made good at guard on the light-weights. The following year he clinched a position on the first team as center. Last year he again played center and was mentioned as being one of the Citrus Belt League. "Bob" weighs 165 pounds, is five feet eleven inches tall, and wears the number 9 on his sweater.

"Bob" is not only a good football player, but also holds an enviable scholarship record. He has been in the Honor Society eight times since entering Chaffey.

BOYS' CHORUS WILL PRESENT FINE PROGRAM

Be sure to save the night of October 22nd! That is the date upon which Mr. Ernest Douglas is bringing his chorus of 20 boys to Chaffey. Nothing of this sort has ever been given here before, so everyone is assured of an unusual entertainment.

The program will be varied enough to please every member of the audience.

They will present, among many other things some clever and "peppy" skits, and other numbers of a like nature. Mr. Douglas will also play the pipe organ. As he is a master organist, the combination of the Chaffey organ and Mr. Douglas' playing should be well worth hearing.

The Girls' League is sponsoring this program and will receive one-half of the proceeds. Advance reserved seat tickets will be on sale soon. The price will be 35 cents for the students, and 50 cents for the general public.

STUDENTS AT FONTANA WILL WRITE NEWS

Continuing the custom of the last two years, the Fontana Herald will devote suitable space to the news of the Fontana schools. This gives the students the opportunity of expressing themselves in written words through the news columns. The heading for this year's notes will be "Volume 3."

The columns are referred to in the Herald office as the "school paper." The copy is prepared by the students of the Junior High School, under faculty direction. The news which is printed is interest to both students and parents by means of this section they can easily learn what is happening at the school.

This will prove a great help to the students who will be probable future reporters and editors for the Chaffey Tatler and Thrasher. This work gives the Fontana students a great advantage over the other Junior high school pupils of this district.

Oliver Cromwell's watch has been stolen from the British Museum in London. It was still in running order when taken.

"The Gypsy Trail" Is Play Chosen By J. C. Committee For Annual Presentation

Mrs. Kegley Will Coach Jaysee Students For Annual School Play To Be Given Dec. 3-4 —Much Material Available In All Classes

Jaysee students will have the opportunity to take part in a play given for the first time in any of the local cities. After reading over many plays the committee finally decided upon "The Gypsy Trail," written by Roger Housum. This play has just recently been released for amateur production, having met with wonderful success elsewhere in the United States during the past year. "The Gypsy Trail" will be presented two evenings, December 3 and 4.

Tryouts for the play will commence the last of this week or the first of next, according to an announcement made Tuesday by Mrs. Kegley, play coach. Students may try out for parts during free periods or after school.

Small letters were unknown until about the seventh century, and even after their introduction the capitals continued to be used more than they are now, while the few punctuation marks first employed by the grammarian Aristophanes of Alexandria, about the middle of the third century before the Christian era, did not come into use until the Venetian printer Aldus Manutius used them with striking effect about 1500.

Lightweights Are Winning

Chaffey's Lightweights are looking for new teams to conquer following their 14 to 0 victory over the first team of the Claremont High School last Thursday, September 30, on Chaffey's grounds.

The game started by Chaffey kicking off to Claremont. It was not long after the "Kittens" got possession of the ball that they had made a touch down and kicked to get their extra point. Again in the third quarter Chaffey scored when Walker intercepted a forward pass and ran 25 yards for a touchdown. The goal was converted, making the score 14-0, in favor of Chaffey.

The game ended on Claremont's 20 yard line with Chaffey in possession of the ball. The ball was never on dangerous territory for the Chaffey "Kittens."

The line up was as follows: Centeg, McArthur; Guards, Barham, Hutchins, Hutchins, Magill; tackles, Ball, Daniels, Ring, Zenz; ends, Walker, Schott, Ord; backfield, Walder, Allen, Webber, Gillett, and Graber.

All students in both the Freshman and Sophomore classes are urged to try out so that there will be plenty of material with which to work. Mrs. Kegley is taking over school play coaching for the first time this year although she has had much previous experience in community play work.

As soon as the cast is selected actual work will begin.

"The Gypsy Trail" is a very cleverly written modern comedy which will hold the attention of the audience from the beginning to the end. There are seven characters of almost equal importance. Frances, the heroine, is a typical modern girl with very romantic ideas. Two young men Ned and Michael are desperately in love with her. The former is very practical and business like in everything he attempts to do; the other is an adventurer, care free, lad who is worried by nothing. Frances' father is a successful business man with a great sense of humor. The aunt is a spinster; the name implies everything she really is. Ned's grandmother is very clever and lively, having been quite an adventurer in her days. Frances' little brother is a lively youngster of thirteen.

As yet the various committee have not been appointed, with the exception of Culver Smallwood, who has been appointed business manager.

Latest fashion in England is for women to indicate their status or mood by ear ornaments. Two ried; one in the right ear that she is engaged. Circles and ropes of gems indicate that she desires no new acquaintances, while ear ornaments in the form of bells denote that she is out for a good time.

One of the earliest attempts at blood transfusions took place in the 14th Century when an effort was made to prolong the life of Pope Innocent VIII. The attempt failed, and three youths who gave their blood died from their sacrifices.

BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARIES OCCASION FOR FETE—

Four birthday anniversaries occurring in the month of October, was the occasion for a dinner party of brilliant appointments at which Prof. and Mrs. John Austin presided on Sunday at their home on Melrose Hill, Hollywood.

Golden chrysanthemums predominated in the decorations, the charming color scheme of white and yellow being repeated in the favors and menu.

Dinner was served at one o'clock, and four birthday cakes agleam with tiny gold and white tapers, held places of honor before the honored guests, who numbered Mrs. Bess Kitson, Mr. Albert Billington, Mr. Chris Thudium and the host, Prof. Austin.

Following the dinner the guests who were all old neighbors back in Wisconsin, enjoyed a motor ride over the Mulholland Dam and the Hollywood mountains.

Late in the afternoon, Mrs. Austin served a dainty cafeteria supper to her guests who numbered Mr. and Mrs. Albert Billington, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Thudium, Mrs. Bess Kitson, Mrs. Sue Mehl and her daughter, Jean, Roy and Edward Thudium and the host's son, John Harvey Austin.

FORMER UPLAND RESIDENTS WILL TOUR WORLD—

Starting on a year's leisurely tour around the world Mrs. Jennie Holtz and her sister, Mrs. Lillian Maud Kelly left their home in Ontario on Saturday morning for Wilmington where they sailed on the S. S. "City of Los Angeles" for the Hawaiian Islands where they will spend the winter months.

Early spring will find them motoring through Italy and the French Riviera and visiting points of interest in France with Paris as their headquarters. In England they will meet a friend from Florida who will join them in a walking tour of rural England and travel through the lake regions of Scotland.

Japan, China and the Philippines, Siam, Ceylon, Egypt and the Holyland are included in their itinerary, their stay being long or short as their fancy dictates. On their return to the United States Mrs. Kelley will remain in her old home in Florida, and Mrs. Holtz will return to her Ontario home.

ENTERTAIN WITH FAMILY DINNER—

Complimenting their father, T. M. Nichols, who left Saturday for an extended visit with relatives in the East, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Nichols were hosts at an informal family dinner, recently at their home on San Antonio Heights. Gorgeous zinnias were chosen by the hostess as her decorations and covers at the dinner-table were indicated for T. M. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Frank K. Nichols, Mrs. Sylvia Duncan, Bertrand and Jerry Nichols, and the host and hostess.

MRS. LINKEY IS LUNCHEON HOSTESS—

Mrs. I. J. Linkey was hostess at a charmingly arranged luncheon on Friday given at her home 505 Eighth avenue.

The hostess chose dainty pink roses for her table decorations and covers were indicated for Mrs. Bert Todd, Mrs. L. E. Creeden and two children, Mrs. Thompson, all of Long Beach and Mrs. H. C. Naylor.

In the afternoon Mrs. Linkey and her guests motored to Ontario, where they enjoyed the rose display at the Armstrong Nurseries.

MRS. GEORGE CASSELL IS HONORED—

Mrs. David Bradfield and Mrs. Marion Grothe, were hostesses at a delightfully informal afternoon on Saturday, when they entertained a coterie of friends in honor of Mrs. George Cassell, at the home of Mrs. Bradfield on East Ninth street.

A dainty pink and white color scheme that was expressed in Autumn blooms featured the decorations, bouquets of dainty flowers, centering the individual tables at which the guests were seated.

Those coming to honor Mrs. Cassell were Mrs. Clair Kirk, Mrs. Robert Campbell, Mrs. Ardis Mills, Mrs. Hubert Manker, Mrs. Owen Davis, Mrs. Arthur Boone, Mrs. Ira Boone, Miss Lillian Ware, Miss Linda Schmidt, Miss Ruby Moser.

"BOB" SIMPSON AND WIFE HONORED GUESTS—

"Bob" Simpson, pro., at the Coronado Country Club, together with Mrs. Simpson were honored guests here Thursday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Dave Smith entertained at dinner in their honor.

Several years ago Mr. Simpson was a pupil of Mr. Smith's and since those days the two men have been great pals, both Mr. and Mrs. Smith having helped Simpson in his earlier years.

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stewart, also of Coronado, were enroute home after an automobile trip through the northwest and stopped for a day's visit with the Smiths. Thursday evening a few friends were invited to dinner and following the dinner, dancing was the entertaining feature.

Several rounds of golf over the Red Hill course were enjoyed, the contest being a real one between Mr. Smith and Mr. Simpson.

LEGION AUX. SPONSORS CHILDREN'S PARTY—

The children's party, sponsored by members of the American Legion Auxiliary was a gala event yesterday, and thirty-five small guests were entertained at the Legion Home on Second avenue.

Jolly old Halloween peepin' just round the corner, was the inspiration for the decorations and menu, and delightful games in keeping with the holiday were features of the afternoon.

Rosy cheeked apples, fastened to the end of long strings suspended from the ceiling were the scene of attack many times during the afternoon, each tiny contestant trying again and again to bite pieces out of the juicy apples.

Francis Brogan and Ann Adams were winners in the pin-the-head-on-the-pumpkin contest and Dorothy Benson and Craig Williamson were victorious in putting the ball in the mouth of the pumpkin.

Following the games, the following members of the social committee served a dainty collation to the children: Mrs. Veeder South, Mrs. Harold C. Moore, Mrs. William Kincaid, Mrs. Frank Nichols. Among the hostesses who were responsible for the jolly affair were Mrs. Hjalmer Anderson, Mrs. Archie Moore, Mrs. Paul Daggs.

REPUBLICAN STUDY CLUB MEETS IN LOS ANGELES—

Mrs. Isaac Baxter, Mrs. Laura P. Kelley, and Mrs. E. S. Bishop of Cucamonga, were representatives of this district who attended a luncheon meeting of the Republican Study Club that was held at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce on Thursday.

During the round table discussion, many of the amendments that are to be voted on at the next election were discussed and plans were outlined for the formation of a Republican Women's Study Club for the West end of San Bernardino county.

On Saturday, October 30th, members of the Federated Republican Club will hold their second annual convention in San Bernardino, at which time Secretary of Commerce Herbert S. Hoover, will be the speaker.

GENEVRA BENNER IS SOLOIST—

Miss Genevra Benner, whose work as a violinist has spread beyond the confines of Upland, was one of the artists last evening playing at a farewell reception given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Armstrong, 1429 Euclid avenue, in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Charles Seitter, who are leaving soon for Santa Ana, where Mr. Seitter will be in charge of the First Methodist church. Miss Benner, who is a student at Pomona college, is a popular member of the younger set, and her work as a violinist has received commendable criticism from her teachers at the college.

FALLS BROS. STYLE SHOW SMARTLY PRESENTED—

The show room of the ladies' apparel section on the second floor of the Falls Bros. dry goods store in Ontario was the scene of a charming innovation on Friday afternoon, that was in the nature of a Winter Fashion Show.

The large rooms had been transformed into a bower of greenery and fall blooms, and the mannequins entered through an arched gateway, modeling the many lovely costumes to soft music played by James Neill North. Mrs. E. A. Ashley, smartly garbed in a tailored black georgette dress, with cuffs and fish of soft pink crepe-de-chine, presided, greeting each guest in her usual gracious manner.

Black held the lead as the popular winter color, and many of the most striking black costumes were relieved with bands of brilliant braid trimmings and vivid red pipings.

All the costumes shown were not black however. There were many lovely fuchsia and blue shades for street costumes as well as smart afternoon frocks of champagne colored satin and Chanel red silks. The fashion show comprised a large assortment of modes to meet varied tastes, including youthful designs as well as beautiful costumes for the more matronly figure.

The modeling was interspersed with vocal solos by Miss Nellie Fulton and Mr. North, popular tenor soloist.

TO RESUME MONTHLY MEETINGS—

The Woman's Auxiliary of San Antonio Community Hospital will resume their regular monthly meetings next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the library of the Hospital. This first meeting is to be in the nature of a "fruit shower" and all interested friends are asked to bring a donation of canned fruit, jam or jelly on that day. If unable to be present, send it by some one else. The home prepared fruits are much relished by the patients during the year and it is hoped the shelves of the fruit closet will be well stocked when next Monday's meeting is over. All kinds of canned fruits are desired and will be very much appreciated.

BETHANY LADIES' AID TO MEET FRIDAY—

With Miss Fisher, superintendent of the Children's day nursery, as guest of honor, members of the Bethany Union Ladies' Aid have planned a delightful all day meeting for Friday, Oct. 15th, and a cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend.

A delicious pot-luck lunch will be served at noon, and during the social hour Miss Fisher will tell the women about her work with the children at Long Beach.

Plans have been completed for a brilliant dancing party, with which members of the Knights of Columbus will entertain this evening at the I. O. O. F. Hall, Ontario.

Special decorations have been planned for the affair and many surprise features will be introduced during the evening.

FALLS BROS. STYLE SHOW SMARTLY PRESENTED—

The show room of the ladies' apparel section on the second floor of the Falls Bros. dry goods store in Ontario was the scene of a charming innovation on Friday afternoon, that was in the nature of a Winter Fashion Show.

The large rooms had been transformed into a bower of greenery and fall blooms, and the mannequins entered through an arched gateway, modeling the many lovely costumes to soft music played by James Neill North. Mrs. E. A. Ashley, smartly garbed in a tailored black georgette dress, with cuffs and fish of soft pink crepe-de-chine, presided, greeting each guest in her usual gracious manner.

Black held the lead as the popular winter color, and many of the most striking black costumes were relieved with bands of brilliant braid trimmings and vivid red pipings.

All the costumes shown were not black however. There were many lovely fuchsia and blue shades for street costumes as well as smart afternoon frocks of champagne colored satin and Chanel red silks. The fashion show comprised a large assortment of modes to meet varied tastes, including youthful designs as well as beautiful costumes for the more matronly figure.

The modeling was interspersed with vocal solos by Miss Nellie Fulton and Mr. North, popular tenor soloist.

Demonstrations of facials and hairdressing were given throughout the afternoon by Mrs. Blakely. Mrs. Blakely had also arranged the makeup and coiffures of the models.

PUBLIC INVITED TO RECEPTION—

A cordial invitation is extended to all friends in the community as well as the members of the Methodist church, to join in the reception and farewell party that will be given at Crowell Hall this evening in honor of Rev. Charles Kent, who is leaving for Fullerton and for Rev. Gross Alexander, who comes to take charge of the Upland church.

A delightful program, has been planned for the evening, and it is the earnest wish of Mr. Kent and members of the social committee, that all join in making the evening a general happy, long-to-be-remembered affair.

STATE REGENT SPEAKS AT D. A. R. LUNCHEON—

It is an exploded idea that it is bad taste to have your photograph in the newspaper, was one of the points emphasized in the forceful address made by Mrs. Jesse H. Shreve, California state regent of Daughters of the American Revolution, who was guest of honor and principal speaker at the reception and luncheon in honor of state officers Saturday afternoon, given by local chapters of the organization.

Mrs. Shreve in making this statement stressed the need of presenting the work of national society for general publication. People will more readily notice a newspaper story with a picture, she said.

Los Serranos chapter in co-operation with San Antonio, Claremont and Pomona chapters, was hostess at the reception and luncheon in the Casa Blanca hotel.

State officers were honored at the half-hour reception held in the hotel lobby, after which the guests adjourned to the dining room. Mrs. H. I. DeBerard, regent of the San Antonio chapter, and Mrs. May Hart Smith, regent of Los Serranos chapter, shared honors in presiding at the luncheon.

Mrs. Shreve's talk dealt with a publication of the national society in which the work of the organization is taken up. She told in an interesting manner of the honor given to the many unknown workers in Daughters of the American Revolution, comparing this honor to the veneration given the unknown soldier. These workers, she said, are the symbols of the highest aspiration of D. A. R.

Statistics quoted by Mrs. Shreve prove that there are 156,000 members of the organization in the United States but that there are over 2,000,000 women who are eligible. She urged that all members work to encourage all those who are eligible to join. The work of the D. A. R. is to enroll these women, not only in chapters already established but in newly organized chapters. In this connection she spoke of the wonderful opportunity in this vicinity, where four strong chapters are carrying on their work in such a small area.

Taking up the national work of the organization she spoke of the fact that 131,000 manuals for immigrants have been distributed. These are published in English and in 14 foreign languages, and instruct the immigrant in valuable Americanization information. It has been judged by United States officials as the best manual compiled and is used by Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. camps, settlement houses, steamships and many other organizations.

Other welfare projects undertaken by D. A. R. is the work at Ellis Island and at Angel Island, the support of 19 schools in isolated mountain spots, the raising of a student fund to insure the college education of worthy girls, foreign welfare work in instruction in the American spirit.

"Many native born Americans are as much in need of the instruction in the ideals of America as the foreign population," was one of the speaker's statements that brought a round of applause from the audience.

Other work includes patriotic education in the schools, work with disabled veterans, preservation of historic spots, and genealogical investigation.

Amendments to be voted on in the coming election were also touched upon by the speaker who urged the necessity for a general vote that "laws may not be enforced while we are asleep."

Mrs. Shreve's address was preceded by a musical program and an introduction of officers. The luncheon meeting was opened by a flag salute led by Mrs. Jacob Jesson, flag chairman, and a prayer by Mrs. Lulu Wallace Smith, chaplain of Los Serranos chapter.

These ceremonies were followed by an address of welcome by Mrs. DeBerard.

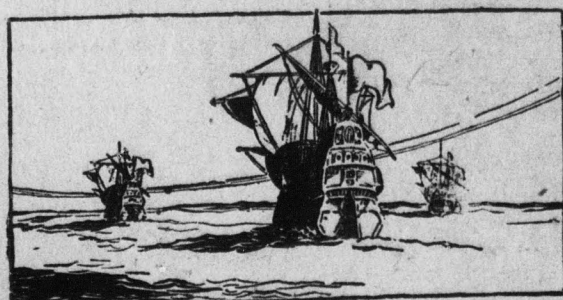

Miss Edith Hitchcock of Claremont chapter gave several vocal solos. Piano accompaniment was by Miss Vinal Palmer, daughter of a member of Claremont chapter.

Miss Hitchcock's program included "Ishtar" by Spross, "Lullaby" by Cyril Scott, and "Holiday" by John Prindle Scott.

At the conclusion of the musical program, Mrs. DeBerard introduced Mrs. Martin Abernethy, regent of Claremont chapter, and Mrs. Charles V. Gillette, regent of Pomona chapter, who in turn introduced the state officers.

Decorations were carried out in the society colors, blue and white, which were reflected in the blue corn flowers and white cosmos of the table decorations. The guest table was centered with a large blue basket of the flowers combined with maidenhair fern.

OLD MAN STORK RULES DESTINY

Fate, chance, or whatever one may choose to call it, in the garb of Old Man Stork seems to be taking a hand in the destinies of two families, one in Etiwanda and one in Ontario. So marked are the following co-incidents, that even the nurses at the San Antonio Community Hospital, who are accustomed to the unusual have paused to comment.

The records at the hospital show the following notations for the year 1925:

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Donnelly of Etiwanda, on the tenth day of the seventh month, a girl.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Reeve of Ontario, on the twelfth day of the seventh month, a boy.

The hospital record for the year 1926 reads as follows:

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Donnelly of Etiwanda, on the seventh day of the tenth month, a boy.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Reeve of Ontario, on the second day of the tenth month, a girl.

Other new arrivals who are listed at the hospital are:

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. H. Howell of Ontario, on Oct. 6th, a boy.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. L. Russell of Camp Baldy, on Oct. 7th, a girl.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Fischer, on Oct. 10th, a girl.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Glenn VanDusen, on Oct. 9th, a boy.

MARGARET FISCHER RECEIVES WELCOME

Controversy wages fierce and strong at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Fischer, 2151 Laurel Avenue, and while Ernest, Jr., says it's the "bunk," his two big sisters are united in claiming that all is well and that things are as they should be.

The argument is all over the birth of wee Margaret Fischer, which event took place at the San Antonio Community Hospital on Sunday. Small Ernest had been hoping that a brother might come to help out the masculine portion of the family, but the girls claim that in union there is strength and tiny Margaret is receiving a royal welcome from her two sisters.

KEEP YOUR EYE ON HEADLIGHTS

Head of Division of Motor Vehicles Issues Bulletin Instructing Officers to Arrest Those With Only One Light Lit

The menace of one lighted headlamp on a motor vehicle was shown in reports of accidents made following the first rain of the season, according to information given out by the Division of Motor Vehicles today. Numerous accidents were reported to the department with one headlight burning having been assigned as the cause. Many owners of motor vehicles pay little or no attention to their headlighting equipment, according to Will H. Marsh, chief of the division of motor vehicles, and as a result in many cases do not realize that one light is not burning. Others are just naturally careless and although they may know they are operating their vehicles with one headlight burning in violation of the law, yet they are too careless and negligent to re-equip and replace the burned-out bulb with a new one.

Those guilty of carelessness and negligence in this matter are going to have cause for regret when a bulletin which is going forward today from the Sacramento office becomes effective. The bulletin provides that arrests shall be made of drivers of vehicles being operated with one lighted headlamp. This bulletin is being addressed to all division inspectors and traffic captains, and one night each week will be devoted to this particular infraction, which, officials assert, is becoming entirely too numerous.

The use of Gaelic is becoming more and more popular in Ireland. Ermine received its cognomen of "royal" from Edward III of England, who so liked the fur that he made it an offense for any person except those of royal birth to wear it.

ONTARIO

"Her Nose Knows"

A highly sensitive nose, combined with a healthy bump of curiosity, led to the discovery by Miss Virginia Smart, shortly before midnight Saturday, of a man concealed beneath her bed, at the home of her mother, Mrs. N. J. Williams, at 214 West Park street, according to the report filed at the local police station.

According to her story, Mrs. Williams and her daughter had returned home from a Pomona theatre and the latter, after repairing to her room and preparing to retire for the night, became aware of a strong smell of liquor. Responding to the natural curiosity of her sex Miss Smart immediately sought enlightenment by peering beneath her bed where she discovered the supine form of her mother's husband, whom Mrs. Williams left some months ago.

The girl's scream of fright had the dual effect of arousing the inert male and bringing her mother on the run and while the latter was busy telephoning the police the intruder is said to have escaped. Patrolmen Clarke, Smith and Hammond promptly responded to the call but the visiting husband could not be unearched and peace and quiet once more settled over the neighborhood.

According to police report, Williams was recently fined $50 on a peace disturbance charge after he is said to have used profane and indecent language in the vicinity of the West Park street home. It is not known if Mrs. Williams will swear out a complaint against her husband as a result of last night's episode. He is said to be now employed on a ranch south of town.

GREAT PICNIC RALLY OF NEW ENGLANDERS

All former residents of the six New England states are very cordially invited to attend the mammoth picnic reunion to be held all day Saturday, October 16th in Sycamore Grove Park, Los Angeles.

AMERICAN

LEGION NOTES

At our regular meeting last Tuesday evening, a resolution was passed that we start our fiscal year November 1st and on that date we will have our election of officers. We nominated officers at this meeting and then Comrade Harold Moore introduced Capt. Frank H. Nichols of Los Angeles, a former member of the Welfare Board and the Captain who has just completed a trip around the world, entertained us with pictures on his travels and took us through Hawaii, Manila, the South Seas and into India and gave us a very interesting talk.

We understand that we are going to have a party with our sweeties soon. Comrade Brown is in charge of the arrangements. A motion was passed that we send $25.00 for relief work in Florida.

Our picture show netted us $57.00 and a nice commission was ordered sent to the Ladies Auxiliary for their wonderful help in selling tickets and a vote of thanks was in order.

As election time draws near, we wish to remind you that Proposition No. 1 for $20,000,000 in Bonds is one of the finest plans in the United States for the buying of Homes and Farms for servicemen and women. In reality, it does not cost the taxpayer a cent as these bonds are all retired in 20 years with interest and the state is only lending its credit to the veterans. The reason it has to go to a bond issue is to comply with the law.

Enroute to Philadelphia to participate in the eighth annual national convocation of the American Legion there, opening October 11th, California World War veterans left Tuesday for the Sesqui-centennial celebration city by special train.

Northern California delegates to the convention gathered at San Francisco under the direction of state commander John E. Slavich, the continent from the southern counties of the state led by John R. Quinn of Los Angeles, former national commander, met them at Barstow.

Outstanding among the topics to be discussed at the Philadelphia convention will be the proposal to hold the 1927 American Legion convention at Paris, France. California Legionnaires go practically instructed by the Susanville State Convention in favor of the Paris move.

The California contingent is carrying with it a load of oranges, raisins and various California fruits for distribution at Philadelphia.

COUNTY IS GIVEN A CLEAN HEALTH BILL

Very Few Cases of Scarlet Fever and Diphtheria in County—Condition in This Section Most Remarkable

San Bernardino County has been given a clean bill of health by Dr. T. L. Tisinger, county health officer, following a check of all districts after the opening of school a short time ago. There are no cases of small pox or typhoid fever and just a few scattered cases of scarlet fever and diphtheria in the county, the health officer stated the other day.

The condition of the county is remarkable for this time of the year, Dr. Tisinger stated. With county schools opening recently thousands of students returning to their studies, sickness in the county usually increases. However, this year finds the health of the entire county normal and, if anything, a slight decrease in the number of communicable diseases.

Disease is Scattered
The few cases of scarlet fever and diphtheria in the county are not confined to one particular district, but are scattered thru out the county. The desert country, with its scattered population has almost as many cases of sickness as the portion of Bernardino mountains. Dr. Tisinger says that he believes the west end of the county has less disease than any other section.

The remarkable record as established this year is due to the enforcement of all sanitary laws as well as the use of a check-up system on all cases of contagious disease. In this connection Dr. Tisinger has voiced his appreciation of the intelligent cooperation throughout the county given by the county school authorities as well as the many school organizations.

To Inspect Schools
Every effort will be made to keep the record of the number of cases of communicable diseases at a low figure during the remainder of the school year. Systematic inspection of the school children at designated periods and other precautionary methods are to be adopted.

In this work the cooperation of the school authorities, both county and city, will be given. Miss Ida M. Collins, county superintendent of schools, has placed her staff at the disposal of the county health officer in his drive against disease in the schools. All county organizations will band together in a concentrated effort.

with a live California bear as a mascot, the World War veterans from this state will make a bid for first place recognition in the mammoth parade which is to be staged during the meeting. Vice-President Dawes, a member of the Legion, will be in the reviewing stand on the day of the parade and will address the Convention. The Pomona drum corps has been sent along by the chamber of commerce of that city.

Business sessions, athletic competition, sightseeing trips to historic Valley Forge and points near Philadelphia, balls and other entertainments have been arranged for the conventionites.

The convention opens Monday, October 11th and closes October 16th.
